about the records committee

Following a review of City recordkeeping practices in 1995, the Records Committee was established through amendments to The City of Winnipeg Act. The role and mandate of the Records Committee is now set out in Section 110 (2) of The City of Winnipeg Charter, as follows:

- to make recommendations to Council regarding the management, retention, safekeeping, disposition and destruction of records in all City departments;
- to implement policies and procedures approved by Council for the management, retention, safekeeping, disposition and destruction of records in all City departments.

The Charter further emphasizes the importance of sound recordkeeping in Section 111, where it states that a record created or held by the City must not be destroyed or removed from the custody and control of the City by any employee unless permitted under a by-law or upon receipt of written approval of the Records Committee.

The Records Committee is comprised of eight members, as follows:

- City Records Manager/Archivist (or designate), Chairperson
- City Clerk (or designate)
- Chief Financial Officer (or designate)
- City Auditor (or designate)
- City Solicitor (or designate)
- Director, Corporate Support Services (or designate)
- two citizen members appointed by Council for 3 year terms.

Members (for the year 2015)
Jody Baltessen, City Records Manager/Archivist
Richard Kachur, City Clerk
Ramona Hodges, Chief Financial Officer designate
Micheal Giles, City Auditor designate
Harold Dick, Solicitor, City Solicitor designate Kirk Cumming, Corporate Support Services designate message from the chairperson

Like many organizations, the City of Winnipeg is in the thick of a transformative process – electronic records now constitute the largest portion of the City’s total records volume. As with all records created or received in the conduct of City business, these records support operational activities and may be accessed in response to a FIPPA request or during discovery for legal purposes. And some records will have long term or historical value. Given that these records exist in a variety of electronic systems and are dependent on system functionality for access, managing these records calls for different strategies than are used to manage paper-based or traditional records. Winnipeg is not unique in its struggle to manage this transformation. As governments transition to digital environments, digital information strategies must be developed and implemented to support management of this critical asset.

During 2015, as the first step in a larger Enterprise Content Management (ECM) initiative, a consultant worked with departmental staff City-wide to document record types, information systems and key business processes in use across the City. Issues anticipated to be outlined are: inconsistent classification of records; uncertain chain of custody/version control; limited capacity to execute disposition actions or to enforce legal holds; and difficulty locating records to support decisions and business processes. The ECM discovery process is a critical step forward – findings will inform planning and policy development to improve information sharing, tracking and the execution of disposition actions. The project’s final report, ECM Strategy and Roadmap, will be released in 2016.

While managing electronic records is a pressing issue, the Branch is also responsible for a significant and still growing volume of paper records now held in three facilities. Given that two of these facilities are leased and that the Branch continues to deal with an uncertain future in all three facilities, staff will be hard pressed to manage demands for storage and related services from departmental partners. This places in jeopardy the significant and important advantage that a secure, cost-effective records storage program affords to departments as they transition away from paper to electronic information systems.

Also at risk are gains made in the archival program. Now operating out of leased warehouse space, the Archives is no longer able to offer public programming onsite and researcher visits have stabilized at a volume well below the numbers received when the program operated out of 380 William.

With these challenges in mind, the Branch will look for ways to address facilities issues while engaging with departmental partners to improve governance for electronic records so as to ensure that critical digital records as well as traditional records and archival materials remain accessible and useable over the long term.

Records Management Program

Space Rationalization and Inventory Management
Branch staff are managing records in box storage spaces on two floors at 311 Ross; in the Manitoba Government Records Centre (MGRC); and at 50 Myrtle. Transfers of archival materials out of 380 William are essentially complete and 50 Myrtle is full. The lease for 50 Myrtle has been renewed for 2016. The lease with the Province expires at the end of 2016 and no extension has been secured to date. This places considerable pressure on the Branch to develop options to house materials presently in storage at the MGRC.

Governance
Progress was made in 2015 towards an extensive update to Records Management By-Law 86/2010. In particular, staff began a thorough reformatting of Appendices B and C to simplify use of the by-law by departmental records managers and to make future updates and revisions easier to manage. Research to strengthen governance for electronic recordkeeping is underway, and will guide further revision of the by-law.

RM Training/Education
In addition to educational and networking opportunities offered through the Winnipeg Chapter of ARMA, Records Management staff developed and delivered the following training for City staff:

On September 29, Branch staff gave two half-day training sessions to eighteen City staff who use the Corporate Records Center’s online tool – RS-Web.
Archives Program

Researcher Services
Research visits increased slightly in 2015 as the public access program settled into its first full year at 50 Myrtle. Research visits picked up slightly as the move of materials out of 380 William progressed and records that had not been accessible since before the June 10, 2013 disaster were once again available to researchers and word of this favorable development reached the community. Regardless, total numbers are significantly below the volume of visits experienced when the program was housed at 380 William.

Outreach Services
The Archives was involved in several outreach initiatives in 2015.

For the first time, staff participated in the Manitoba Museum’s arts, culture, and heritage fair. Held on May 9th, the event gave staff the opportunity to speak with a broad range of people about the Archives and its services. Particular emphasis was placed on educational tools available online through Pathways to Winnipeg History.

In June, the Archives prepared an exhibit on the importance of recordkeeping and information management. The exhibit was installed in cases outside City Clerk’s main office. As well, in response to a request from Councillor Mayes, the Archives prepared a display to help celebrate the 50th anniversary of the St. Vital Bridge (a METRO project). The display was featured at a public function in December and moved to the St. Vital Library shortly thereafter. In 2016, it will move to the Fort Garry Library.

Control of Holdings - Internships
Natalie Vielfaure joined the Branch in July to process records of the Metropolitan Corporation of Greater Winnipeg (METRO). This significant fonds covers the period 1960 to 1971 and documents METRO’s role in developing infrastructure and an urban design framework in the Greater Winnipeg area that continues to affect planning to this day (see Spotlight for the METRO story).

Chris Zaste joined the Branch in August to reconstitute the Museum Collection – which was severely affected by the 2013 disaster at 380 William. Part of this project involved researching and writing a de-accession policy to guide the disposition of materials that have no value to the City. This is in keeping with recommendations made by Terry Cook in his review of recordkeeping and archival practices in the City of Winnipeg (In the Public Trust: A Strategic Plan for Archives and Records Management Services in the City of Winnipeg, 1999).
Conservation/Preservation
On hold – 50 Myrtle does not have appropriate space in which to re-establish conservation/preservation treatments to enable appraisal and description of fragile paper record series dating from as early as 1874.

Website/Social Media:
Staff Favourites, 2015:
Staff identified six new images for the 2015 version of the web exhibit, Staff Favourites. New images are added to Staff Favourites bi-monthly. Notable this year was a feature on Charles James “C. J.” Brown, Winnipeg’s longest-serving City Clerk. The exhibit includes a photograph of Brown, with his characteristically long beard, and a letter in which he describes the importance of recordkeeping within city government.

Winnipeg in FOCUS:
Following on the launch of this application in 2014, staff added content from the newly processed Parks and Recreation Photograph Collection and photographs created by the Greater Winnipeg Water District created during construction of the aqueduct.

Throwback Thursday:
Staff began contributing content to Corporate Communications for Throwback Thursday postings on the City’s social media site. Postings featured topical images from the collection, including snapshots of the Grey Cup, and of baseball legend Mickey Mantle during his 1978 visit to Winnipeg.

Site Analytics
Site analytics for the Archives web pages show an increase in site visits and a slight drop in page views. Traffic on the site is now relatively consistent month-by-month, with Winnipeg in FOCUS at the top of the list in all but one month. Overall site visits and page views have increased significantly since 2013 and prior to the launch of Winnipeg in FOCUS. Further development of web content will be informed by ongoing analysis of site statistics and in response to research trends and emerging civic issues.

Accessions

The Archives acquired 11 new collections in 2015, either through donation or as an internal transfer. Notable accessions include the following:

Richard L. Frost Collection: Rick Frost donated records he collected during his time as Chief Commissioner for the City of Winnipeg (1989 to 1997). The collection includes reports, speeches, pamphlets, and bound correspondence that document the functions and activities of the Board of Commissioners, which operated from 1972 to 1997. The Board was responsible for providing leadership to all civic departments. In particular, the Board provided advice to Council on key issues; initiated administrative changes and improvements; led civic responses to crisis situations; provided mentoring to department heads; pursued federal and/or provincial funding for civic works; and coordinated service delivery.

Greater Winnipeg Water District (GWWD): The Archives received a transfer of forty-two boxes of historical material on the Winnipeg aqueduct from Water and Waste. The transfer includes minutes, reports, contracts, correspondence, cartographic records, scrapbooks, and other records that document the building of the aqueduct and the operations of administrative bodies such as the GWWD, which operated from 1913 to 1961. Of particular significance are digital reproductions of the GWWD photograph collection, some of which are now available online in Winnipeg in FOCUS. Given that our storage space is not environmentally controlled, Water and Waste continues to hold the fragile glass negatives for this photograph collection.

Owen Clark Collection: The Archives received additional material from Owen Clark, consisting of photographs, audio recordings, and various ephemera (circa 1940 to 2000). The Owen Clark Collection, which documents the history of Winnipeg's dance, big band and jazz music scene from the late 1890s to 2007, was processed in 2013. A small but growing number of images from this collection are available online in Winnipeg in FOCUS.

The Archives is committed to building its collection to better reflect the City's complex and fascinating history. Tax receipts may be issued for some collections. For information about our acquisition policy, please contact the Archives at 204-986-5325.
Access and Privacy Office (FIPPA/PHIA)

The volume of requests for access to information under The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) continued to grow in 2015. To meet increasing service demands associated with this growth, the City took a number of steps aimed at process improvement, with a focus on the concepts of openness and transparency. Among these steps was amendment of the City’s FIPPA By-Law to establish a strong central role for the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) in both access to information and protection of privacy.

In March of 2015, the City established a dedicated Access and Privacy Office to centrally coordinate requests for access to information, and to develop and implement process changes. The new Office is tasked with:

- enhancing openness and transparency by ensuring consistent and fair access to City records;
- undertaking City-wide access and privacy initiatives to improve existing processes, and;
- providing leadership to support departments working on access to information and protection of privacy issues.

Access and Privacy Administrative Standard

The Office worked with the CAO to develop and implement the Access and Privacy Administrative Standard (approved September 2015), which established a framework for managing access and privacy issues facing the City. The purpose of this standard is to ensure clearly defined processes for managing access to information and protection of privacy in accordance with the City’s commitment to openness and transparency.

Access and Privacy Website

An increased online presence was prioritized to improve the flow of information to the public. The revamped Access and Privacy website went live in August. It identifies frequent requests for access, proactively makes available information previously requested through FIPPA, and directs the public to information already available as part of other Open Government initiatives.

With these foundational pieces in place, the Office looks forward to continued progress towards the City’s shared vision of an open and transparent government that protects the personal and business information entrusted to its care.

Departmental Initiatives – Civic Elections

Initial planning for a school trustee by-election began late in 2015. Branch staff will work in various capacities along with City Clerk’s colleagues to deliver this election in June of 2016.
partnerships

Association for Manitoba Archives (AMA)
One hundred and twenty-five (125) archival descriptions of City of Winnipeg records are available on AtoM/MMAIN (Manitoba Archival Information Network), an online search tool hosted by the University of Manitoba and maintained and developed by the AMA, of which the City of Winnipeg Archives is a member institution. Researchers can access this online tool via a link on the Archives' web pages.

Tourism, Culture, Heritage, Sport and Consumer Protection

Heritage Grants Advisory Council
With a grant from the Heritage Grants Advisory Council, the Branch hired contract archivist Jeanette Mockford to appraise, process and describe just over 7,000 photographs from the City's former Parks and Recreation Department. A select but growing sample of images from this collection is available online in Winnipeg in FOCUS. The Archives is grateful to the Government of Manitoba for ongoing support.

*This grant program was discontinued following federal budget cuts to Library and Archives Canada in 2012. A one-time special project grant.

Western Economic Diversification Canada

Canada 150 Community Infrastructure Program
The City was awarded a Canada 150 Community Infrastructure grant of $400,000 to develop a Multi-Purpose room at 380 William – part of the larger renewal project envisioned for this facility. The grant is contingent on approval of capital funding for the renewal of 380 William.
challenges ahead

Over the last several years, Branch staff have spent considerable time managing scarce physical storage space and searching for options to resolve facilities issues. This pressure will persist, as Branch projections indicate that paper records will continue to flow from departments into the Corporate Records Centre for some time to come – volume may in fact accelerate as departments move more fully to electronic environments and look for savings through the removal to cost effective storage of paper records with long term operational requirements. While the application of basic records management principles to physical records is well-developed and facilitates access to record content as well as physical tracking of this resource, the quality and scarcity of physical storage space is a continual threat to the City’s records management operation. Paradoxically, control of and access to the informational content of electronic records is lacking while server space to store these records is readily available – this at a time when managing civic information to facilitate shared use is critical for the City to account for decisions and commitments, track results and achievements, and plan effectively to improve processes and outcomes. Failure to manage information, be it physical or electronic, exposes the City to potential risks and liabilities.

Facilities: 380 William

By the end of 2015, Branch staff were preparing the last few pockets of records for transfer to 311 Ross, 50 Myrtle or to the MGRC. Apart from shelving and some furnishings, the facility will shortly be empty.

This immense project – the removal of circa 20,000 boxes/volumes/artifacts under duress conditions – was managed hands-on by a small complement of Branch staff who coordinated the identification of materials displaced by the disaster and managed moving crews under contract with Planning, Property and Development. The move was accomplished without benefit of a useable loading dock or staging area. In effect, every item removed from the building had to be carried out by hand.

Recognition is due the following staff: Martin Comeau, Pam Hnatowich (retired), Don Kroeker, Sallie Caufield, Lynne Foster, Monica Gerth, Sarah Ramsden and Scott Reid. More recently, interns Natalie Vielfaure and Chris Zaste provided invaluable assistance to bring the project to a close.

Recognition is also due the student team that worked with staff in 2014 to wrap, list and label hundreds of individual items prior to their removal from 380 William. And then to shelve these same materials once they were transported to 50 Myrtle: Trevor Hnatowich, Megan Huzarski, Evan Knight, Justine Pochuk, Kyle Sacher and Anthony Yee.

As for the building itself, its future was unknown at year end. Municipal Accommodations will monitor and maintain essential systems and alarms once the Branch has fully vacated the site.
Facilities: 311 Ross
The availability of storage space is a critical issue before the Branch. The two floors that comprise the Corporate Records Centre are at capacity. The upcoming installation of purpose-built shelving to accommodate plan box storage will meet short term demands to house these materials. Plans to mitigate storage space pressure by using top level shelves for cubic foot boxes will now proceed. This course of action has been avoided to date to decrease the possibility of damage from sprinkler leaks/activation or other structural “events” in the building. As well, given the physical effort required to shelve and move inventory and to respond to service requests from departmental partners, the Branch will begin using warehouse staff to pull and reshelve box inventory as part of day-to-day operations – this will result in an increase to operating costs for the program.

Facilities: 50 Myrtle
Public research services are delivered out of 50 Myrtle. Requests for tours and class orientations have declined given that there is no room to accommodate groups in the space available. Warehouse space used to house the primary research collection onsite is full.

Facilities: Manitoba Government Records Centre (MGRC)
Early in 2014, the City negotiated a two year lease with the Province for the storage of long term, “quiet” inventory previously located at 380 William or 311 Ross. The lease at the MGRC was originally intended to meet short term record storage needs during construction/renovation of 380 William – the renewal project remains uncertain. As at the end of 2015, the Province was not prepared to commit leased space in this facility beyond the original two year period (the lease expires at the end of 2016). Should the MGRC experience significant demand for storage space from provincial government departments during 2016, the Branch will be required to remove records from the MGRC to an alternate storage location as yet unknown.

Innovation Fund Project
In 2015, the City established an innovation fund and invited proposals from City departments. The Archives submitted a proposal and was awarded $100,000 in September to undertake the project proposed. The Archives project will:

• Streamline the management of information about archival records.
• Build capacity for reliable, long-term preservation of and access to digital records with archival value.
• Support outreach initiatives that encourage interest in the history of the City of Winnipeg by making information about archival records and digital records with archival value accessible online.
• Provide users with a single point of access to information about archival records, regardless of format, as well as access to digital records managed by the Branch.

Branch staff are working with Campus Application Support, Project Management, and Materials Management staff to undertake this project. A Request for Proposals (RFP) will be issued early in 2016, and the project will commence later in the year.

Governance
Branch staff continue to work with departmental partners on revisions to Records Management By-Law 86/2010. Of particular concern is strengthening governance for electronic records. Findings of the ECM discovery process and research regarding governance for electronic records will guide revisions to the by-law.

Access and Privacy Office
Significant projects for 2016 include the acquisition and implementation of an Access to Information Case Management System to receive and track access requests, the development and distribution of City templates for responding to access requests, and City-specific guidance materials for both access to information and protection of privacy issues.
The Metropolitan Corporation of Greater Winnipeg (METRO) was created in 1960 under Bill 62 of the Province of Manitoba, An Act to Establish the Metropolitan Corporation of Greater Winnipeg. METRO had jurisdiction over the City of Winnipeg and adjacent municipalities, as well as the Additional Zone*.

METRO had an appointed chairman and ten councilors elected by citizens in ten electoral divisions, each of which included a part of Winnipeg and parts of one or more adjoining municipalities. The first METRO Council was elected on Wednesday, October 26, 1960. R. H. C. Bonnycastle, the first Chairman of METRO Council, was appointed by the Provincial Government.

While METRO achieved improvements in many service areas, civic politicians and citizens alike were dissatisfied with the structure of government in metropolitan Winnipeg. Key concerns were the fragmentation of authority and financial capacity and a lack of citizen involvement that resulted from two tiers of government. Despite these issues, METRO was considered a success by two provincially-appointed inquiries conducted during the 1960’s and likely softened negative attitudes towards amalgamation within and around Winnipeg, leading to creation of the Unified City of Winnipeg (Unicity) in 1971.

*The Additional Zone extended out beyond METRO boundaries to an average distance of about five miles and included all or part of four rural municipalities. In matters of planning, zoning, building controls and property assessment for tax purposes, METRO had jurisdiction in the Additional Zone. This arrangement was intended to prevent uncontrolled urban sprawl.
Service statistics track Branch operational activities for the year and are useful for measuring basic levels of activity. Service statistics do not reflect staff time required to prepare for and administer research visits or departmental requests for boxes, transfers or destruction orders and do not communicate the value of recordkeeping to the City. Of note, research visits appear to have stabilized at a level well below those experienced when the Branch operated out of 380 William. The Branch will look to offset the negative impact of “location” on the public’s use of the Archives through exhibits, the use of social media, and by posting new material to Staff Favourites to showcase the variety and richness of the civic record.
