QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q1: Can you please walk us through the Form B: Prices Sheet? What is the Approximate Annual Quantity mean, is it number of services or number of locations?
- A1: The Approximate Annual Quantity is number of services or more specifically the number of collections per week unless otherwise indicated in the heading.
- Example Calculations:
- a) Using Item 2. - 2.25 m³ on a Set Day Cycle Once, the collection of 6720 annual units divided by 12 months = 560 (unit price) collections per month. As an example, if the unit price bid is $10.00, the annual amount is $67,200.00. So, $67,200.00/12 = $5,600 on the monthly payment. But the collections are weekly so 560 bins are collected each week.
 - b) Using Item 8. - 2.25 m³ on a Set Day Cycle Twice, the collection of 1560 annual units divided by 12 months = 130 (unit price) collections per month. As an example, if the unit price bid is $20.00, the annual amount is $31,200.00. So, $31,200.00/12 = $2,600 on the monthly payment. Using twice per week collection there are 260 bins collected each week.
