

The golden moments through your fingers run.
Rolling eastwards towards the rising sun.
Uncertainties still glide of learning to go through it without pride.
Whatever life and love have in store
Friends expand the pleasures of such moments.
Traveling together is more fun
We will be through much more.
Life can be full, no matter short or long Underneath our confidence something precious has been put away in its golden light.
Each and every day is a day to remember.
We see, we hear, we touch, and we smell. Be thankful and take the time to enjoy.
As life goes on with opportunities and wonderful careers.
We may drift away from one another but we know we got each other in our hearts.
We got dreams to accomplish and succeed in the future.
All Now is success and celebration

-Benni Berens